25 YEAR ART FOR AIDS Anniversary!

Join the UCSF Alliance Health Project for a week-long silent auction featuring fantastic works by artists from the Bay Area and beyond.

This epic fundraiser, now virtual, benefits low-income San Francisco residents who are LGBTQ+ with HIV, substance use disorder, or chronic mental illness. Buy Art. Save Lives.

This year you can score a signed and numbered Shepard Fairey print, mixed media works by Heather Wilcoxon, Txutxo Perez and Catherine Mackey. Don't miss out on a framed photo by award-winning photographers, Sandra Chen Weinstein and Marsha Guggenheim, paintings by Maxine Solomon, Anna Sidana and Gage Opdenbrouw and many more.

Art Talks will be streamed Monday–Thursday at 6pm each night.

Check out the Art for AIDS website: <https://alliancehealthproject.ucsf.edu/catalogue> and register to bid on the auction site, <https://ucsfaids2021.ggo.bid/bidding/package-browse>.

Registration is Free.

About the UCSF Alliance Health Project (AHP)

AHP is a community mental health clinic that has been on the front lines of caring for clients with and at risk for HIV, substance use and mental illness since the early days of the HIV epidemic. AHP services are free or low cost and clients who are uninsured and underinsured receive HIV testing, support groups, mental health care and counseling. AHP's values and goals reflect its mission: to support the mental health and wellness of the LGBTQ and HIV-affected communities in constructing healthy and meaningful lives. Please visit alliancehealthproject.ucsf.edu for more information about the Alliance Health Project.
